Surfblocker 2022

Surfblocker is a PC safety and parental control application made by Surf Genie. The program is made to run on both Mac and Windows operating systems. It offers a great number of features that make it the ideal parental control utility - from easy user interface to an ability to block online content. It can even be customized to be used as a PC security application. The initial page that one sees after launching the application is divided into two sections. They include a general description of the application and a link to an FAQ/How to Use section, where users can learn how to set up the application and do other tasks. In order to have Surfblocker working on your PC, you have to go to the Preferences section and create a profile with a name. Then, the application can be fully configured to include user accounts, time of day, and the list of allowed websites, among others. Having done that, you can open the application and go to the Home tab, where the website blocks are stored. They will be listed according to the profile you created. Furthermore, if you wish, you can also define a whitelist and block the sites from the PC.

On the other hand, with the help of the Internet Connection tab, you can also block the websites if you are having trouble accessing the Internet. Additionally, the whitelist will allow the access to only IP addresses that are listed on a separate list.
